Project Report on Commercial Goat farming

At many occasions we come across various examples where existing or new entrepreneurs willing to scale up / set up organized goat farming ventures are denied term loans by the Banks due to lack of a proper project report. This is at large due to our dependence on Chartered Accountants who merely possess any grass root knowledge about the small bovine sector. The reports prepared by these agencies are purely a number game satisfying the profitability and sensitivity analysis of any particular venture. However most of the Banks currently have Credits Officers with Agriculture or Animal Husbandry backgrounds doing the techno-financial feasibility assessment of these loan applications. When these Agriculture Credit Officers raise technical queries about the project, neither the promoter nor the Chartered Accountant has a clue. The success rate of such loan applications is less than 5% at all major banks cumulatively. Agriculture sector finance quota allotted to these banks by Reserve Bank of India lapses every year amounting to lakhs of rupees every year.

Realizing the problem faced by fellow members and farm entrepreneurs, the Goatwala Farm have come up with a sustainable solution to address this problem. Goatwala Farm decided to support these farmers with provision for credit worthy tailor made Detailed Project Reports from Banks.
